

Aquatic manager points out organization must get more support in order to keep operating

The Kelowna Aquatic is not merely an unpaid baby-sitting organization, as some people appear to think, but a hard-working community organization, filling a definite need in Kelowna, and requiring the support of every adult citizen in order to function successfully, according to Aquatic manager Percy Dowton.

"Parents must realize," said Mr. Dowton, "that swimming is no luxury—but a vital necessity. Each and every parent of the more than 800 children receiving expert free instruction at the Aquatic should be members of the association, and not merely taking a free ride."

"With the sweep of swimming deaths," he went on, "it is more vital than ever to teach our children how to swim properly. Their lives depend on it."

BROAD PROGRAM

"We have stepped up our program this year, so that the children can be carried past the primary stages, to the point where they are confident swimmers, well able to take care of themselves. But this all takes money, and we must have our membership increased if we are to carry on."

Head instructor Jane Stirling and her staff of 11 take the children from their first plunge into the water right up to the point where they are eligible to enter the Red Cross swimming program. The Flying Fish category, tops in the Aquatic's beginner's classes, conforms with the Red Cross requirements.

However, the instructors go further than this, by taking the children through the junior, intermediate and senior phases of Red Cross swimming tests.

Each child going through his beginner's training receives a button, significant of his proficiency. The junior Red Cross swimmers receive a pin and a card. Seniors and intermediates receive a pin, card and bathing suit badge.

The instructors, all fully qualified by the Red Cross standards and tests are: Joan McKellar, Melitta Anderson, Reba Gagnon, Irene MacDonald, Jean Shilbeck and Valerie Van Ackeren. Assistant instructors, also fully qualified, are Marie De Puyffer, Karen Butcher, Mary Hoover and Melsa Ducklow. Alice De Puyffer teaches adult evening classes.

NEED MORE SUPPORT

Commenting on the Aquatic's

Jane Stirling, head instructor at the Kelowna Aquatic, is seen in the pool with one of the beginner class students, in the "flying fish" category. Ted Pelly, age 8. Looking on is Percy Dowton, aquatic manager.

need for more support, Miss Stirling said, "I think it's a shame that the whole town doesn't support the Aquatic, when all their children swim here."

One visitor from the coast didn't realize the significance of the Aquatic, except that she said she had never seen a place with such wonderful free baby-sitting.

"Why," she said, "I simply give the children 50 cents in the morning so they can buy their lunch, and I am free to play golf all day, knowing they are in good hands."

"Yes," concluded Mr. Dowton, "they are in good hands, and will remain that way, just as long as people pitch in and buy their memberships, taking an active part in the organization that is an active part of their community."

City will be featured at PNE

City of Kelowna will be featured in an exhibit sponsored by the B.C. division of Community Planning Association of Canada at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver this year.

"We feel that Kelowna is a good example of a well laid-out city and in addition is protected by a regulated area surrounding it," stated J. E. Brown, deputy minister of municipal affairs, in asking council if it had any objection to the city being featured in the exhibit.

Unanimous approval was given by council.

Protest increase

Re-establishment of B.C. police force requested

Resolutions asking the provincial government to re-establish the B.C. Provincial Police Force and also protesting the increase in RCMP policing costs are being debated this afternoon by the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association at Enderby.

Majority of municipalities had already set their 1955 budget when they were notified of the increased police costs. This year, Kelowna's police costs for seven men jumped from $14,000 to $18,653. However, effective June 1, 1957, the total cost will be $31,220.

Several weeks ago, aldermen decided they could not commit future councils and signed a contract for one year only.

The resolution calling for the setting up of a provincial police force, is being submitted by the City of Enderby. Kamloops and Vernon are also critical of the rising costs, and these delegates are expected to throw their weight behind the Enderby resolution.

When the matter was briefly discussed at council meeting Monday night, Ald. Ernie Winter asked why the RCMP took over policing in British Columbia.

Mayor Ladd explained that federal and provincial authorities were concerned over the "Communist element" in Canada, with the result B.C. entered into an agreement for the RCMP to replace the provincial police force.

Other resolutions to be discussed at the Enderby conference deal with hospital costs; daylight saving time; gasoline tax; federal sales tax on municipal irrigation systems; parking of vehicles on private property and extension of water services to outside municipal boundaries.

The matter of extending water services to people outside the city limits, provoked a lengthy discussion. City recently received a request for water from four land owners on Copeland Place, adjacent to the municipal boundary. Council decided to table the application.

Three of the four applicants expressed willingness to come into the city limits, but the fourth—the largest land owner—registered objection, council was informed.

Aldermen agreed that before water service is extended to rural residents, the recipients should first consider coming into the city limits. Ald. Ernie Winter thought taxpayers should be protected in view of the large capital investment in the water system.

Health unit now has six nurses

Another nurse has been added to the staff of Kelowna Health Unit, Ald. Ernie Winter informed council.

Remarkably on the steady growth of the health unit, Mr. Winter recalled that there were only two nurses when it first opened. Five years ago there were four nurses, and now there are six.

A new Ogopogo sign will be erected overlooking the pool in which a replica of the famous lake monster sits.

Ald. Dick Parkinson informed council the sign will be along the lines of those erected by the B.C. Forestry Department.

City okays Safeway application

City Council approved in principle an application from Canada Safeway Ltd., to rezone property at the corner of Bernard Avenue and Richter Street, to permit building of a $300,000 shopping centre.

No objections were raised by aldermen and a public meeting will be called August 8.

Property involved takes in the Morrison Grocery Store, west on Bernard Avenue up to but not including St. George's Masonic Lodge building, and south to Lawrence Avenue. There will be a frontage of 230 feet on Bernard Avenue and 245 feet south to Lawrence.

At present the south side of Bernard is zoned for retail trading as far as the Bertram Street.

STEADY GROWTH

Mayor J. J. Ladd recalled the business area at one time extended as far east as St. Paul, and as the city grew, the zone was extended to Bertram. Safeway, he pointed out, requires a large area to facilitate parking.

"The city is steadily growing, and I fail to see any objection," remarked Ald. Jack Treadgold.

Ald. Parkinson pointed out Safeway is an established business, and therefore could see no objection to the move. However, he said he would oppose extending the retail zone east of Richter.

Mr. Ladd said the only alternative for Safeway would be to obtain property outside the city limits, if suitable land was not obtainable inside the city.

A. W. Gray, local real estate agent, appeared before council on behalf of Safeway.

Kelowna doctor receives high award at parley

Dr. E. P. Carruthers, who attended a joint convention of the Canadian Medical Association and the British Medical Association in Toronto recently, was made a Fellow of the Canadian Heart Association.

There are only seven other doctors in B.C. who have been so honored, and about 100 throughout Canada.

Dr. Walter O'Donnell also attended the joint medical convention.

Improved ferry service

Three ferries will operate from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Sunday, provincial department of public works announced today.

W. M. Underwood, local superintendent, last week asked permission from Victoria to extend ferry hours. Improved service will be in effect every Sunday until Labor Day weekend, and during Regatta week.

Improved service is the result of complaints last Sunday that over 200 cars were at one time waiting for transportation across the lake. The third ferry was taken off the run at 6 p.m.

Cherry damage runs around 15 per cent

Rain during the past few days has hit the Okanagan cherry grower.

B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. reported overall damage caused by splitting will run as high as 15 to 20 per cent in the Kelowna district, and somewhat higher in the Penticton-Naramata district. Some individual growers have been hit harder.

Tree Fruits explained that cherries with horseshoe splits or dried cracks will be diverted into the No. 3 pack.

Favored by excellent weather conditions the past two weeks, the fruit was rapidly nearing the picking stage when the rains fell. Tuesday night .51 inch of rain fell in Kelowna.

While a large percentage of the valley's 276,180 crates of cherries have been harvested, most of the Labrets are still on the trees. Picking of Bing's was pretty well cleaned up last week-end.

Providing the weather remains cool, with no rain, growers hope to have most of the cherry crop under cover within the next few days.

Joan Pritchard reports

Interprets message left in visitors' book by Anglican clergymen who visited Zagorsk

Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles by Miss Joan Pritchard, who recently toured Europe with members of the Canadian Women's Press Club. The uncensored report was written after Miss Pritchard returned from behind the Iron Curtain.

A Russian by any other name . . . ger. This bit of information so impressed me that I stored clear of babies and children, lest I contaminate them . . . until I was told by yet another young mother that although she was also keen on cleanliness, she did not mind me touching her children. Said she, "We all have our own ideas about such things, even as you have in your country."

VISITED DRUG STORE. I went into a drug store in Leningrad to see what I could buy in the way of soaps and cosmetics. I found their soap fairly expensive even by Russian standards . . . what we would term a "fancy" soap, wrapped in a flowered paper. I noticed that there were several different sized cakes of this. I also saw shaving cream and tooth paste, all packed in simple, standardized tubs with an eye to utility rather than beauty. Toothbrushes were old-fashioned looking . . . rather large . . . and seemed to be made of animal bristles . . . certainly not man told me that I must never touch a Russian baby, though I might look at it and admire it as much as I liked. She said that a mother would immediately feel that she must wash the child with soap and water if it were touched by a stranger.

Lipsticks are offered for sale in plastic cases, and the choice is not too large. Women in Russia wear lipstick, and sometimes nail polish, but never seem to go in for any other makeup, not even powder. The Russian people are the first to admit, if you ask them, that although they do not have the consumer goods that we have here in Canada, they believe that these things will come, and they are willing to wait. When one of our group was asked by our young Russian interpreter what she disliked about the Soviet, she searched hard for some small criticism to make that she felt would hurt no feelings. Finally she came up with the obviously feminine suggestion that Russian men might wear ties a little more than they do (you will see them at concerts, even the ballet, I think). Our little guide considered this for a moment, then said, "Yes . . . but they will wear ties soon."

An independent firm is presently making a survey of the entire Okanagan Valley with a view of installing a natural gas distribution system in various cities and towns, it was learned this morning.

While a civic spokesman declined to disclose the name of the company, it was learned that this may delay municipalities making a commitment to Inland Natural Gas Co. who have submitted plans to major Okanagan cities for an underground distribution system.

Quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association is being held in Enderby this afternoon at which time two representatives of Inland Natural Gas were scheduled to outline tentative plans to municipal heads.

Inland is a subsidiary of Westcoast Transmission Ltd. which plans to construct the main pipeline from Peace River to Vancouver.

Mayor J. J. Ladd, chairman of a natural gas committee, this afternoon will recommend to the OVMA parley that the special committee disband in view of the adverse criticism voiced by Penticton representatives. Recently Penticton decided to "go it alone" when they charged the committee was making no progress.

Pressure has been put on Westcoast to construct a spur line through the Okanagan, rather than via Merritt and Princeton. The take-off would be from Kamloops. Penticton, on the other hand favors the route via Princeton, and wants to tap on at the south end of the valley.

Jack Coops, head of Interior Propane Sales Ltd., stated his company has also made a survey of a local distribution system. He has discussed the matter with council in committee on several occasions.

The entire matter will be thoroughly discussed at this afternoon's OVMA meeting.

Outstanding talent has been arranged for "Aqua Rhythms of '55" at Kelowna regatta

In charge of arrangements for the Friday and Saturday evening regatta shows "Aqua Rhythms of '55" is John Emerson, noted pianist and entertainer from Vancouver. Well known as an actor and director, Mr. Emerson has lined up for the Kelowna show some outstanding talent in the field of music and entertainment including the lovely singing voice of Miss Pat Kirkpatrick.

JOHN EMERSON

A member of CBC's TV show "Chucklewagon" Miss Kirkpatrick first came to the attention of the Vancouver public at the age of nine when she appeared in a concert in the old Lyric Theatre. For five years she studied voice under C. E. Findlater and became a member of his internationally known Elgar Junior Choir. Further studies followed in Toronto and New York during which time she won a medal and two cups.

Periodically she accepted night club and radio engagements, singing "pop" numbers, but she discovered that her talents lay in the lighter field of music and since then she has won herself an enviable spot in the entertainment world. Besides appearing in TV's Chuckwagon program, she is currently featured on Club Date a quarter hour show with pianist John Emerson heading the instrumental group.

PAT KIRKPATRICK

Entertainers who will appear at the Regatta are Wallie Peters, banjo soloist; Clek! Binshead, dramatic soprano; and Roy Wheeler, comedy magician.

Gyros plan 1956 parley in Kelowna

Kelowna next year will play host to the district convention of Gyro District Number Four which includes most of B.C. and State of Washington. The meeting will be held here in June and it is expected that between four and five hundred will attend.

The Kelowna group which returned this week from the convention in Tacoma, Wash., brought back the non-mile trophy, emblematic of the most mile travelled by members of a club to attend a convention.

There were 13 Kelowna Gyros and Gyrettes in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Long, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gaddes, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Hyland, Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Anderson and B. W. Johnston, G. R. Hanford and W. A. Shillock.

Rhythmic swimmers now rehearsing

A group of girls rehearsing for the Aqua-Rhythms of 1955, to be presented at this year's regatta, are shown rehearsing under the direction of Billie McKellar of Hollywood. It takes long hours of practice to accomplish the intricate routines. Timing is one of the most important factors.

About 50 girls will take part in the water ballet. Mrs. McKellar has arranged for different routines to be presented on the four nights.

M. D. Jarell, eminent trichologist, demonstrates causes of baldness and how it can be prevented.

How to Have Hair For a Lifetime To Be Demonstrated Here By Famous Trichologist

Offers Written Guarantee

An exclusive interview written by Ward Allen

LONDON, ONTARIO (Special)—M. D. Jarell, Director of Jarell Hair Experts of Canada, exploded the "myth of baldness" today in an exclusive interview. "Baldness is unnecessary, costly, and a plague to mankind," says Jarell. "No man need be bald. No man need suffer the stigma of premature old age that is forced upon him because he is losing his hair. The Jarell method of hair and scalp treatment can prevent baldness—can turn colorless fuzz into healthy, growing hair—can make you look youthful again."

Demonstration To Be Held in Kelowna, B.C.
This revolutionary method of home treatment for the hair and scalp will be demonstrated in Kelowna, Thursday ONLY, August 4th, at the Royal Anne Hotel. Trichologist L. J. Zazie will conduct the private, individual interviews from 12 noon until 9:00 p.m. on August 4 ONLY. There is no cost or obligation, and you need no appointment.

REASON FOR BALDNESS
"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this nationally known authority. "Hair cannot grow through a scalp that is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness. A scalp that has never been exercised cannot be expected to produce healthy hair." Men, and yes, women too, walk the streets today, completely devoid of nature's greatest ornament—hair. Simply because they were not taught the basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene while they were growing up. "The simple answer," emphasized this expert, is that children should be taught the same simple basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene that they are taught for the proper care of their teeth. If this were the case, baldness would be a rarity today!"

Hereditary Not Involved
Trichologist Jarell dodged no issues. He quickly took up the most widely spread theory of baldness—heredity. "Mankind's unrealistic belief that baldness is hereditary stems from a misinterpretation of the theory of genetics. Theory does not state that any person must be bald because baldness exists in the family. What it does say, is that in some families, a tendency exists towards an undernourished scalp. The purpose of Jarell Hair and Scalp Experts is to teach the methods of strengthening the weak scalp and nourishing it to a healthy, vigorous condition. A healthy scalp will grow hair, if it is not already completely bald," assures Jarell.

Is There Hope For The Completely Bald?

In his travels throughout the United States and Canada, Jarell has collected hundreds of testimonies of his ability to develop weak fuzz into healthy, mature hair. All of his clients have started with a private examination, hair and scalp analysis, and a diagnosis of the disorder. Jarell is quick however, to tell a hopeless case that he cannot be helped. "We strongly advise," says Jarell, "that no person who is completely bald hold any hope whatsoever of regrowing hair. If there is any fuzz at all, we can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended."

Offers a Guarantee

"Jarell Hair Experts of Canada, offer a guarantee to any client who enrolls for treatment. If he or she is not completely delighted with results at the end of 30 days, the money invested will be graciously refunded," pledged Jarell. "We must have satisfied clients. We must regrow hair. After all, it is our best advertisement."

Is Your Hair Healthy?

If you have a scalp disorder, or if you are worried about your hair, call Trichologist L. J. Zazie at the Royal Anne Hotel in Kelowna, B.C., Thursday ONLY, from 12 noon to 9:00 p.m. The public is invited. The examinations are private and open to men and women. You do not need an appointment, and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Naramata sure of winning cricket cup

Naramata bowler, Bob Conway led his XI to a decisive win over Vernon in the northern city on Sunday, to make his cricket team's chances in the Spencer Cup conclusive, as neither Vernon or Kelowna can catch them.

With five straight wins under their belt, Naramata has three games left to complete the schedule. Even three straight losses wouldn't hurt them, unless Vernon won the two games they have left to play. On the basis of the season's play, this eventuality seems unlikely, however.

Kelowna has three games to play, but only one win so far this season, but could tie with Vernon if they beat them in their August 7 game in Vernon.

Naramata started off the season with a bang, and haven't stopped their deadly pace. Bowler Conway has done outstanding work for the XI, and both C. and D. Roughington have been consistent batters. In next Sunday's cricket fixture, Naramata will host the Kelowna team.

Restless III to enter three major races

ART JONES, BOB WILLIS AND RESTLESS III

Restless III, Art Jones' speedy answer to the West Coast inboard racing world, is taking it easy for a few days while her motor is given an overhaul in preparation for the strenuous schedule coming up in the next few weeks, beginning with the Orville boat races on Saturday and Sunday, July 30-31.

Many of the fastest boats in the western circuit will be at the Orville Lake next weekend, and Restless III, driven by Gordon Finch, will be going against Richard Hall, the Orville boat races on Saturday and Sunday, July 30-31.

Asked about his chances, the "Silver Fox" of racing was non-committally confident. "I have one of the best boats on the circuit, and a good driver. If nothing happens to her, we will do alright."

SEATTLE SEA FAIR

On the following weekend, he and his crew of Gordon Finch, boat jockey, and Bob Willis, mechanic, will travel with Restless to Seattle for the Seattle Sea Fair, where they will enter in the Gold Cup Race sponsored by the American Power Boat Racing Association. Art is planning to enter Restless in the junior Gold Cup race, the prize for this event being a solid gold cup, worth $14,000. This cup was put up by the people of Seattle as a major attraction for their Sea Fair, and is raced for by the sixteen fastest entries in the senior Gold Cup event.

Following the Seattle event, Restless will be hurried back to Kelowna, where she will race in the 29th Annual International Kelowna Regatta, which will draw a number of the faster boats in the Seattle competition.

This will be a bit rough on the trim craft to lift her right out of the water after the rough grind in the Gold Cup Race, and bring her into a competitive event here, says Mr. Jones. A great deal of importance will be attached to the punishment she takes down there, since this will determine her chances in the local event.

Earlier in the year, Restless entered successfully in the Memorial Day races in Seattle, taking the Hydro 200 and 225 classes, at McCulloch have indicated slower fishing. The fishing in the dam at Goodbye B.C. Lions?

With the oval in City Park no longer ringing with the cries of "Go Baby, Go!" and the streets empty of the king-sized young men who will carry B.C.'s hopes in the Canadian football world, our thoughts will be concentrated on the biggest event in Kelowna's sport sphere, Regatta.

Before we focus our attention on the annual water splash, it would be good to hear that Lions would be back again next year. The certainty of their return lies with the board of directors when they meet in Vancouver, but it is safe to say there is a good chance of a deal being made.

As ambassadors of good-will, the boys were matchless, fitting into the community as though they had always been here. They appreciated the hospitality shown by the citizens, and did their part to live up to some of the local functions. The constantly re-iterated remark, "I'd sure like to come back here for a holiday," should be a comfort to the Tourist Association, who were largely responsible for picking up the tab on their visit. And in addition to the feeling of the players and executive, there were many spectators who took a holiday to co-incide with the camp. Many of them were pleased with the city, and expect to return in future years.

Incidental to the social aspect of their visit, Big Stuke was able to cram more football down the boys' willing throats, and learn more about the way they work than he will in the next two months of workouts. It gave him and his coaching staff, Vic Lindskog and Clem Crowe, a chance to get to know the squad that will carry their hopes along the thorny Grey Cup trail.

No doubt, as the result of having known the boys personally, Kelownians will feel they have a little stake in the B.C. team, which has a good chance of making themselves felt this year. Here's hoping we see them again next year.

Adanacs climb to third place

With the team riding on the crest of a winning wave, Rutland's pride and joy in the Interior Baseball League, the Adanacs, knocked over the Revelstoke Spikes in the Elks Stadium on Sunday, to move into the third place spot.

Last Sunday the Ads cinched their hold on the play-offs, and now it looks like they mean to do more than that. Although they are only half a game ahead of the Revelstoke nine, it was a good win against the team that was second place for a large part of the season.

It looks like it will be the Ads against North Kamloops Mohawks, although anything can happen. The alternate choice would be the first-place Jayrays. Either way the Ads will be playing against a Kamloops team, and not have to take the long hop over the archaic and tortuous "Route to Revelstoke", which gives them a better chance of getting the play-offs over before the snow flies.

Improved race track

Joe Welder showed the fans of the wheeled sport that the face-lifting job on the oval at Knox Mountain Stock-Car Race-Way, was a success when he wheeled in his cut-down Ford for a new track record of 25 5/10 sec.

Fred Evans answered one of the points that track committee head Andy Ollerich wasn't sure about, when he plunged over the side at the north-east corner. Andy had wondered at the time of the track renovation if the safety measures at the end of the track were sufficient now that the track was built up higher. Answer, yes! The boys intend to go on with the Sunday racing, and it looks like it will be very popular with the new track's surface and shape giving them better rides for their money.

The work on the track was done by the enthusiasts for the thrilling sport themselves, and the money for the job was put up by drivers and owners putting up their purse money, as well as supplying their labor.

It looks like the rest of the season will be a big success, and don't forget to make it a Sunday afternoon date.

Wide-open field lacrosse

A visiting team of "old-timers" in the lacrosse world dragged their sweaters out of the mothballs on Sunday, and beat the regular Bruins boxla team in an exhibition encounter of the old field game. The old time game hasn't been played in the city for 20 years, and many of us haven't seen it played here before, but the enthusiasm of the crowd showed they liked it.

The long passes and thrilling runs give the game a lot of spectator appeal, and a player can take quite a tumble on the grassy plot with less likelihood of a scrape than on the wooden floor. The game itself is much more wide open, and the play changes swiftly from end to end of the field, keeping the spectators on their toes following the flight of the ball.

The match on Sunday wasn't quite as blood-thirsty as the one I watched between two reservation teams in Manitoba some years ago, but it was a lot of fun, and a very enjoyable way to spend the part of a Sunday evening.

The Bruins will be playing again tonight in the Memorial Arena against the Vernon Tigers.

McCulloch should improve as the water recedes.

A few good reports also have been received from the bass fishing in Shuswap Lake. Pat Myrnett reports good success on the Aro Spinner, using bait casting.

The largest trout brought in for some time were caught by Dr. Gordon Wilson and son, Don, at the narrows on Shuswap Lake. Don landed a 16-pounder, Kamloops Trout, and Dr. Wilson took a 7-lb. Kamloops and a 14-lb. Gray Trout. They were caught on pearl-pink Lucky-Louie plugs.

Another good report has been received from Bill Potts at Chase, with excellent fishing in Star Lake. Stan Duggan reports Johnson Lake at Kamloops is slow. This can be expected if the weather stays hot.

Good reports are coming in from Brenda Lake, back of Peachland. The mosquitoes here are also reported as very thick, and biting well, so take along a bottle of repellent. The report is wet and is not recommended for cars.

Club 13 score 8-7 victory over Rovers

Club 13 nosed out Rutland Rovers in a game that went 11 innings and kept the crowd on the edge of their seats in the Rutland ball park on Tuesday night, with the game ending 8-7.

Rovers' pitcher Al Manarin accounted for six strike-outs, and knocked a home run out in an attempt to win his own ball game. Left fielder Pete Weninger clouted a circuit hit for the Club 13 team, his only hit of the game.

Center fielder Riezie for the Club 13, was the heavy hitter, with three hits and no errors, for one run to his credit. John Weninger and Earl Fortney each collected two hits for one run.

Club 13 out-hit Rutland by two hits, 10-12, and had three more errors.

CURIOUS PARADOX
It is a curious paradox that at the very time when U.S. farmers themselves are growing increasingly skeptical about the support price system, farm organizations in Canada should be urging upon the government at Ottawa the adoption of even more comprehensive costly support schemes.

THOUGHT MOTIVATION
If we would really pay more heed to just the type of thought we need, we'd be more fit than we have been to meet and serve our fellow man. So many thoughts corrupt the mind. They're not at all the proper kind that we should house or entertain. If we're to reach a higher plane.
KELLOWNA FUNERAL DIRECTORS
(ARTHUR R. CLARKE) DIAL 3040

He's a regatta booster now!

On his first official appearance in town, Kelowna Packers' new coach Moe Young donned his Regatta hat, showing how he means to fit into the community. He spoke briefly after being introduced to the crowd at the Sportsman's Smorgasbord, and sounded enthusiastic about the coming season. Left to right are Mrs. Yvonne Bishop, wife of Grant Bishop, past president of the Packers; Moe Young, and his wife, Donnie.

More About 1 Interprets message

cravat with a picture of a Volga boatman, perhaps I might have weakened... but Russian ties, like Russian cars, seem to come in dark and drab colors... blues, greys and combinations of these colors with black. There is nothing frivolous about consumer goods in Russia. Things are strictly utilitarian as yet. There's still a good deal of pressure being put on manufacturers to meet the needs of consumers.

You have only to go out on the streets at store-opening time, eleven in the morning, to realize that here is a nation with money to spend. The crowds that besiege the doors of GUM, the big department store off Red Square, amount to a riot by the time the store opens for business. The number in a day? One hundred and fifty thousand according to Russian count. I'll go along with that. I've ploughed my way through that crowd and children's day at the Toronto Exhibition has nothing on its numbers!

One day I followed a long queue of people to see where they were going and found that at one corner in GUM, towels were being offered for sale. I could see nothing very unusual about these towels and I do believe that such things are difficult enough to obtain still, that housewives are inclined to heap up for them. I wanted to take a picture of this line-up, but was asked to refrain from doing so. One thing that the Russian government does not like is to have a picture made of a cue... of any kind. They feel, I suppose, that it shows the country in a bad light. But goodness knows, we queue for things over here! at least I've never queued for towels... not yet, anyway.

FEW WASHING MACHINES
As far as I could discover, there are few washing machines in Russia. Appliance stores do show television sets and radios... and at exhibitions I have seen electric refrigerators, electric percolators and toasters and kettles. But I suspect that the average person does not have these things. Production just has not yet caught up to the demand. "These things," retorted the Russian, "will come."

You hear that Russia is an ungodly country. That may be. Undoubtedly the church has been persecuted and religions discouraged under the Communist government. But I visited Zagorsk; the focal point of Russian piety, and found there, at least religion grows and flourishes.

We motored to Zagorsk, which is some forty miles outside Moscow and some two hundred and twenty from the city. The Russian church is a training school for future priests, but it is a shrine to which people from all parts of Russia make pilgrimages. In the old Cathedral of St. Sergius, I watched pilgrims to the elaborate silver sarcophagus which holds remains of the saint who founded the shrine at Zagorsk. I heard the people sing deeply and beautifully without benefit of musical instrument, as they must have done years ago, when, in 1240, services were first held in this place. The sick are brought to Zagorsk. A holy well provides water which is carried away in the same small metal cans that the people use for milk. Mothers bring babies to be baptized, peasants leave their work to pause in the cool church and kiss its old worn floors.

though it was a Holy Day and services were in progress. And she was as uniformed as we were. INTERPRETS MESSAGE
With one of the priests, I was especially charmed. He seemed to be the patriarch of the group, though did not appear much older than our original escort. He was a great strapping tall man, well over six feet in height, with a wonderfully sincere smile and a firm, friendly handshake. He invited us to rest in a handsomely furnished room with the monastery and presently presented us with a visitors' book which, he indicated, we should sign. With some help from the others in our group, I wrote a short appreciation of the hospitality we had been accorded. Then each of us signed our name. That done, I glanced at the opposite page, and there was a similar message, penned by six Anglican clergymen who had visited the shrine a month or so before. The tall priest told us through our interpreter that he would like to know what these words said. Accordingly I read the message to the interpreter, who translated it into Russian, and the priest wrote it down. It was a strange proceeding, but I was glad to be of some service to these people. They had shown us such kindness and been so kind to my friend in the long black robe that had been wondering for so long just exactly what his counterparts from another land had written. What they had written was simply their admiration for the splendour of the old churches, and as we had, of the friendliness accorded them by the people who preserve the shrine.

As we left Zagorsk, people were coming out of the churches. Mostly Russian women. Men, we were told, attend the earlier services before the day begins.

cause they must be away in the fields during the regular working hours of the day. These women were dressed alike, in black skirts that almost brushed the cobbles, in loose fitting blouses and almost without exception, had scrupulously clean, did not appear much older than our original escort. They were of all ages. Does the Communist regime ban creeds exist in present-day Russia. Apparently the church in Russia today has established some sort of working arrangement with the government, because we were told that prayers were offered up in the Cathedral of Zagorsk for Premier Stalin. He lay desparately ill prior to his death.

I made a point of inquiring of our guide whether people in Russia celebrated Christmas. She replied, "It is optional. Most people prefer to celebrate the New Year."

FRIENDLY GOOD-BYE
As our car inched through the big arched entrance to the cloistered "Kremlin" which contains the wonderful old churches and the shrine of St. Sergius at Zagorsk, the people of Russia crowded out, too. A bell rang, one of the few still remaining in the bell tower which once hung in the bell tower through the Lenin's Mausoleum, I felt religion in Russia to be just as much of an enigma to me as it had been before.

AQUATIC RIPPLES

By OGOPOGO
About time I made an appearance, isn't it? But it's been SO HOT and I've been down in those cool, green depths trying to dodge the heat and just popping to the surface now and again for a quick look-in at the activities around our Aquatic.

The other night, Thursday, it was I surfaced long enough to take a look at the adult swim class. What a class! Heard someone say it was an all time record enrolment with 25 enthusiastic "Bert Thomases" paying close attention to their pert teacher, Alice de Piffier. However, there's room for more, so come on; join the adult swim class every Thursday night at 7:30... and it's free membership!

Did my heart good to see Roba Gagnon giving instruction to a few of the aspiring young divers, too. Any youngster interested in free diving lessons should turn out on Monday and Friday nights.

CHILDREN'S CLASSES
Noticed, also that the children's swim classes were so large that they were on the go all day, no matter what time I came up for air! Marie de Piffier, Karen Butcher, Mary Hoover, and Melsa Ducklow have been really good sports and volunteered to help out as instructors. Tests have already started, the first ones being run off last Friday night. These will continue periodically throughout the rest of the summer as the classes progress.

Good luck to our speed swimming team when they compete at the North Okanagan Regatta in Vernon today!
Beware, Minnie! So you can swim, huh? Watch out! The Aquatic and Billy McKellar woke up the other morning with a "numb thumb"... now, how do you sprain your thumb while rhythmic swimming?
Without seems quiet this week without the Vancouver Lions. Heard Jane saying how the kids miss their heroes. They were good examples for the local small fry, as they obeyed all the aquatic rules well. I miss them, too! When one of them hit the water it caused a small tidal wave.

"Hit the Deck" comes to local screen today

A big booming, star-studded Cinema-Scope musical jammed with laughs and song hits comes to the Paramount Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday with the showing of McG-M's "Hit the Deck". Produced by Joe Pasternak, who has given the screen such smash successes as "The Student Prince", "The Merry Widow" and "The Great Caruso", this new offering tells a story of three sailors and their girls on the maddest, merriest 48-hour pass in Navy history. To the toe-tapping rhythms of Vincent Youmans' tunes, "Hit the Deck" hits a new high in screen miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Vivien Geen whose marriage will take place on August 6.

Co-hostesses for the shower were Mrs. W. Bulman, Mrs. L.
Piddocke and Mrs. C. Clement, and about 30 guests were present to watch Miss Geen unwrap her gifts which were attractively arranged under a brightly colored maypole.

Games were played preceding the opening of the gifts and refreshments were served later with Mrs. Geen presiding and Mrs. Taylor and Misses Joan and Pennie
Piddocke assisting.

Mrs. Hamilton has been visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr.
and Mrs. A. Harrop.

The Kelowna Stampede was the destination of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Macdonell who travelled by car with their daughter and son-in-law,
Mr. and Mrs. Brian Duggan of Okanagan Mission.

The Kelowna and District 4-H Club held a field day at the home of Ken and Bruce Clement. Rod
Bailey, the district agriculturist of Vernon gave a talk on showmanship. After the talk the boys and girls joined in judging some steers.
Refreshments were served.

Miss Ann Carney, of Vancouver,

University Manitoba graduates exchange vows

St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church was the setting on Wednesday, July 20, for mid-afternoon wedding of Miss Mary Winifred Cameron, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Alister Cameron, 2337 Richter St., to Mr. Neil James Bell, son of Mrs. Donald Bell and the late Mr. Bell of Basswood, Manitoba, the Ven. Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, Denna Shelby and Miss Shirley Pollard. Bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked on either side by vases of roses. Decorations for the church and the reception were lilies and roses. Out-of-town guests included the groom's mother, Mrs. Donald Bell, Basswood, Manitoba; Mr. Lawrence Bell, Rapid City, Manitoba; Miss Islay Bell, Edmonton, Alberta; Mrs. G. A. Fisher, Summerland; and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Manning, Banker, B.C.

For her honeymoon trip the bride donned a pink linen dress with matching jacket. Her necklace and earrings were of summer white to match her hat, purse and shoes. Bride and groom are both graduates of the University of Manitoba and plan to make their home in that province.

Engaged

WELTER—CALJOUW

Mr. and Mrs. John Caljouw, 575 Coronation Ave., announce the engagement of their only daughter, Hendrina Francina (Henny) Caljouw, to Mr. Hans Welter, 760 Ellis St., youngest son of Mrs. Pymackeen, Rotterdam, Holland. Wedding date will be announced later.

VISIT SON ... The Rev. and Mrs. D. M. Perley, are visiting their son Dr. Perley, and family at Grand Forks.

Ladies' auxiliary to Aquatic Association making arrangements for water show; billets for swimmers urgently needed

With regatta only two weeks away, activities in the Ladies Auxiliary to the Aquatic are stepping up and every available hand is busy arranging coffee parties, making costumes, and searching for free billets for contestants.

Most pressing problem insofar as mittie has a large assignment of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Aquatic costumes to make and anyone who is concerned is where to find enough. It is willing to volunteer their help in free billets for the regatta out-of-town contestants. Anyone who might possibly accommodate some of these boys and girls are urged to request to contact Mrs. Syd Cook at 4323 or Mrs. R. P. Walrod at 2857.

Invitations have been printed and will go out immediately to wives of visiting dignitaries and special guests to the Ladies Auxiliary coffee party to be held Friday morning, August 12, at the home of Mrs. H. M. Trueman, 351 Glenwood Ave. Meanwhile plans for the Lady-of-the-Lake contestants' coffee party at the Golf Club on Wednesday morning of the regatta are moving ahead with limited accommodation for 50 guests.

Three new members have been enlisted in the persons of Miss Barbara Grier, Mrs. H. G. Schuman, and Mrs. W. J. Archibald. Several volunteers met this morning for a work party to clean up the ladies lounge before the regatta. Members were present last night to sell Aquatic memberships before the weekly aquacade. It has been disclosed that the auxiliary has been responsible for the sale of over 150 memberships to date.

Auxiliary has been requested to supply twelve ushers for each evening's performance at the regatta. St., on July 27, a son. Mrs. J. H. Buckland is in charge. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. R. C. Dillabough, the costume com-

Shower honors July bride

Miss Kathy Baumgarten of Rutland entertained about 14 guests last Friday at a miscellaneous shower held in honor of Miss Dorcen Gertsmar whose marriage to Mr. Bill Wolken takes place this Saturday.

Specially decorated chair awaited the bride on her arrival at the surprise party and after an evening of games and entertainment the gifts were presented to her in a gaily decorated basket. She was assisted in opening the gifts by Mrs. Mike Kabatoff. Tasty refreshments were served later by the hostess.

RETURN TO COAST ... Mr. and Mrs. C. H. King and Miss Carol Nordman, Vancouver, have returned home after visiting Mr. W. S. King and Miss Rosemary King, Riverside Ave.

VISITING HERE ... Mr. and Mrs. Colin Brown and their daughters are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown.

Couple celebrate golden wedding anniversary

MR. AND MRS. SOL SALLOUM

Mr. and Mrs. Sol Salloum, 1927 Ethel St., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Friday with a family dinner at the Aquatic, followed by open house at their home.

Centering the table was a three tiered anniversary cake, flanked on either side by bouquets of roses and carnations from California, Vancouver, and Kelowna.

Al Salloum proposed the toast to his parents. Telegrams from friends and relatives, including former neighbors from Hazelmore, Saskatchewan, Fidal is Mr. Salloum's niece. Their other four daughters and two sons were home for the celebration.

FAMILY DINNER

Attending the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. David Salloum with their daughters, Marjorie and Jeanne, of Hazelmore, Saskatchewan; Mr. and Mrs. Al Salloum and their daughter, Brenda, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bloomfield, and their two daughters, Bobby and Linda, all of Quesnel; Mrs. Rose Barbara Munro, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. E. Salloum, Swift Current, Saskatchewan, and their daughter, Helen, of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cosh and son Larry, of Kelowna; and Mrs. Haddad, Mr. Salloum's sister, and her daughter, Marjorie, Windsor, Ontario.

Open house for friends and neighbors was held later at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Salloum who have lived here for ten years.

REGATTA ACCOMMODATIONS

Free billets in private homes are required during Regatta week for out-of-town contestants.

It would be preferable if this could be in the City of Kelowna or immediate vicinity. If you have accommodation available in your home Phone 2857 or 4323. Give details and number that can be accommodated.

Rovettes beat defending B.C. champions 12-9

Rutland Rovettes hosted the defending junior champs of B.C., the Penikese Wheelers, trimming them 12-9 in a fast moving ball game that saw Katie Osowsky strike out 12 for the winners.

Dorothy Hartman, Rovettes' regular catcher, came through with a circuit clout for her team, helping win the exhibition fixture, as she counted four of the 12 runs earned.

Phyllis Ramsey shared the pitching honors with Osowsky, earning two strike-outs, the win going to Osowsky.

Racking up two runs apiece for Rovettes were pitcher Osowsky, third base Phyllis Schneider, and second base Agnes Heltman.

Rovettes showed good form against the last year's champs, counting only four errors against 11 racked up by the Wheelers. Big hitter for the Wheelers was left fielder, Bernice Gale, who counted three of her team's runs.

LEARN SEAMANSHIP

VERNON — Fourteen local sea cadets from the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps, Kalamalka detachment, are now at the B.C. Sea Cadet Training Establishment at Comox, B.C. for two weeks training. Courses being taken by the cadets are seamanship, sailing, range and parade training, signalling, and swimming.

Vernon beats weakened Bruins' boxla squad 18-11

Vernon Tigers moved into the lead of the Okanagan Mainline Lacrosse League on Tuesday night, playing against a badly weakened Bruins team, who suffered an 18-11 defeat.

Bruins were playing many of the up and coming youngsters as their lines were thinned with injuries and absences.

Dave Ritchie suffered a cracked knee-cap when Merv Bidoski slashed him with his stick. The injury will keep Dave on the sidelines for some time, possibly the balance of the season.

Cal Smilie suffered a torn shoulder ligament which will probably bench him for the return game in Kelowna this Thursday night.

John Ritchie, Bill Dean and Al Schuler were unable to attend the game, in which Vernon fielded the best turn-out this season, with Dick Lee, a former Kamloops Klipper, playing for them as well as Bob Talbot, who is now a regular member of the Vernon squad. Sengo Sammartino was the Vernon big gun, with five goals and two assists to his credit, and Bidoski counting four and two.

For the Bruins, Pouncey, Watt,

Storochenko and Jones each counted two goals and one assist, to make the scoring fairly balanced.

In the Bruins young squad, admirably filling the gaps made by the absences, Frank Pouncey made six shots on goal to score his two and one; Dick Jones made three shots to score his two and one; Pete Luknowsky made four shots for one goal, and Doug Greenough made two shots to count one assist.

Skip McCallan was the only Vernon man penalized, drawing one in the first and one in the fourth quarter. Welder and Bartell took a two minute trip for the Bruins.

With Dave Ritchie and Cal Smilie out in their home game this Thursday, Bruins will have a tough job to even up the score again, and with just three home games and two in Vernon to play, Bruins will have to make every game count.

WESTBANK—Miss Marcia Fearnley has accepted a teaching position at Williams Lake.

Misses Aime and Dorrie MacKay are spending a month's holiday at their home here.

Recent visitors at the home of T. B. Reece were Chas. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Algie Brown and Joyce, of Edmonton.

Miss Jo-Anne White, of Oliver, spent last week visiting in town.

Mrs. Ootmar leaves to mourn her passing, two daughters, Mrs. M. L. (Sarie) Kuipers, Okanagan Mission, and Mrs. Edward (Alida) Coelen, Kelowna; one son, Cor. Ootmar, Vancouver; four grandchildren; three great grandchildren; as well as a sister, Alida, in Holland. She was predeceased by a grandson, Edward Coelen, in September, 1953.

Funeral services will be held in St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Okanagan Mission, tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 p.m. the Rev. J. W. S. Snowden officiating. Burial will follow in the Anglican church cemetery at Okanagan Mission. Kelowna Funeral Directors have been entrusted with arrangements.

Coast visitor S. M. Maysmith dies suddenly

Sterling Maynard Maysmith, Vancouver, died in Kelowna General Hospital yesterday following a brief illness.

Mr. Maysmith who was born in Victoria, 69 years ago, has lived on the British Columbia coast his entire life. Ten days ago Mr. and Mrs. Maysmith came to Kelowna where Mr. Maysmith was introducing his product of soil builder fertilizer especially adapted for the orchard land. He took seriously ill last Sunday and passed away Wednesday evening.

He is survived by his wife, Blanche, one brother, Mr. Albert Maysmith, Victoria; and one niece, Mrs. J. C. (Zela) Short of Vancouver.

Remains will be forwarded to Vancouver by Day's Funeral Service where last rites and interment will take place.

To my way of thinking

By JUNE BURMASTER

After viewing the works of several artists, amateurs and experienced painters alike, I found that in the beginners' works, some constructive criticism must be made in order to differentiate between the professional and the novice.

But since adverse criticism of any sort is supposed to come from a professional, I found myself just a little cramped and resolved to view any future exhibits at leisure and give a few paragraphs to the artist when I had time. Consequently, Grace M. Willis' works had been in the library for ten days before I saw them.

A few moments after I stepped into the board room of the library where her pictures are currently showing, I was wishing I had been there before so that I would have had more time in which to encourage our readers to go see her exhibit. One is impressed immediately with the multitude and richness of color in her paintings.

Total of 74 pictures are representative of the past 50 years and cover a variety of subjects from portrait studies to original silk screen work. Gracing the south wall are primarily scenes from Finistere, Brittany. Departure of Fishing Fleet at High Tide is unusual and therefore eye-catching while Scabbie Castle is so well finished that from only a few feet away it looks like a color photograph.

Along the west wall are a number of paintings done in the vicinity of Revelstoke, while the east wall contains a collection of various themes including three portraits—an outstanding one of an Indian—the silk screen works, which have an oriental appearance to them, and several landscapes. But nearest and dearest to home are those along the north wall which cover mainly Okanagan beauty spots. Characteristic in all her work is the strength of line, the individualism of each tree, and the natural reflections and shadows in the water. Otter Bay, Okanagan Lake near Vernon, pictures the ruggedness of the rocks and the purple hills and clouded skies reflected in the water.

Mrs. Willis' pictures have depth, almost three dimensional. Each of her pictures of Okanagan Mission is strikingly different but beautiful in its own right. The one with its soft greens and blue and pinks captures a phase unlike the largest of the group with its natural forest and shaggy shoreline. These pictures are but a small part of the multitude of work which the artist has done over the past years.

Grace M. Willis is the wife of Mr. H. A. Willis, an Okanagan Mission fruit farmer.

Library protests slashing $4,000 from annual grant

A strong protest against a slash of almost $4,000 in the annual grant will be lodged with B.C. Library Commission and provincial government by Okanagan Regional Library Board.

Decision to protest was made at a meeting of the board in Penticton which received news of the reduced grant with consternation in view of financial problems arising from an increasing demand upon library services and the feeling of the board that salary increases for librarians are long overdue.

The three related problems, slash draft at the bank was personally guaranteed by the chairman. It was stated that this new unit would materially benefit the service to the whole region.

Rapid growth in circulation and in membership was reported from several areas. Opening of new premises in Oliver, in quarters far superior to those formerly used, was subject of a favorable comment. An increase in usage is expected as a result.

Owing to the illness of the treasurer, the meeting elected C. R. Bull as acting treasurer.

These attending the session included W. B. Hughes-Games, C. R. Bull, Kelowna; Mrs. C. Jones, Endersby; Mrs. J. B. M. Clarke, Keremeos; Alderman Elsie MacCleave, Penticton; P. W. Workman (Naramata) for Penticton school district; E. G. Broder, Salmon Arm, and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburg, Summerland.

Mixed freight

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Every husband has heard his wife complain that she has to stay in the house and work an 18-hour day while he goes abroad meeting "interesting people."

In these little domestic sermons, men are pictured as drones (insect-like creatures of course) who sit around rocking their wings in chrysalis, waiting for the time when they will be able to land and land at intervals to exchange a buzz of news, gossip and stimulating ideas.

Many a wife looks upon her husband's job as a flimsy pretext for the men to get out and make the social rounds, beyond which supervision. Some wives doubt that their husbands go to work at all. They are convinced that the men go straight to a cigar store in town, where there is a dice game under way in the back room.

Some husbands, however, counter their wives' argument by suggesting an exchange of jobs. "All right," they declare, "you get all the money, so you might as well do my job. Tomorrow you go to work in my place, and I'll stay home."

There is no record that such an offer was ever made, but that's a pity. A day of soap opera and party line listening might do a man good.

In sober truth, however, the girls have a good case. Whether they live in town, suburbs or farm, they must endure a great deal of monotony. I have just thought of a rare way to prove to them that life can be (as the soap operas put it) a rich and rewarding adventure.

Let a husband take a course in hypnosis at any reputable school of psychology, or even at one of the disreputable ones, and the reputable schools won't have him.

Armed with hypnotic powers, let him go among the interesting people he meets, and persuade them all to come home the same evening to meet his wife.

I can see the man now, a kind of modern Pied Piper with a glittering eye, trailing behind him a mixed crew that would include his co-workers in his office, mill, factory or store; the neighbor he saw at the crossroads; a hitch-hiker; a man who tried to sell him some insurance; a nurse bandaged who asked him for a dime; an old girl friend who greeted him on the street, and her four children.

"Good evening, dear," he would say. "I brought some interesting people home for dinner. I knew you wouldn't mind."

On second thought, it might be easier for the man to hypnotize his wife.

Family group

Family group attending the Sportsman's Smorgasbord, held Saturday night in the Memorial Arena, following the B.C. Lions inter-squad game, is pictured above. It's veteran end Dan Edwards, former Baltimore Colts player, from Gatesville, Texas, and his wife, Joyce, and three-year-old son, Marshall.

Dayton, Ohio, and its suburbs have produced 17,000,000 refrigerating units, including air conditioners, since 1921.

Couple who recently exchanged vows at First United will make home in Burns Lake following honeymoon

Red roses and white lilies together with other cut garden flowers were attractively arranged in First United Church to provide a pretty setting for the evening wedding on Saturday, July 18th, of Rosemarie Phillifent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Phillifent, 16 View St., Nelson, and Mr. Allan J. Robertson, son of Mrs. M. Robertson, 540 Bay Ave., Kelowna, the Rev. R. S. Leitch officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a strapless gown of white, satin fashioned with a circular floor length skirt, with lace insert held in by sprays of Lily of the Valley. Bodice was topped with a French imported lace jacket with lily-point sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a Juliet cap of lace and she carried a bouquet of red roses and Stephanotis. Later the bride presented her bouquet to the groom's great grandmother, Mrs. M. A. Burard, Kelowna.

Chosen as bridesmaids, Miss Mary Phillifent wore a pale yellow, ballerina length taffeta gown with net overskirt and jacket and matching hat and gloves while Miss Mary Robertson wore an identical gown, hat and gloves in pale green. Both girls carried bouquets of yellow baby gladioli.

Attending the groom was Mr. Don C. Dolman while Carl Nishi ushered. During the signing of the register, Miss Elsie Newick sang "Wedding Prayer".

RECEPTION AT ROYAL ANNE
Following the ceremony, a reception for about 70 guests was held at the Royal Anne Hotel. For the occasion the bride's mother chose a mauve dress, topped with pink duster, and she wore mauve accessories. Groom's mother was dressed in a navy and white frock with white accessories.

Centering the bride's lace covered table was a three-tiered wedding cake with white tapers on either side and bouquets of red roses. Constable R. Ivens proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

Pourers were Miss Norma Smith and Miss Audrey Dolman while Miss Elsie Newick, Miss Marilyn Sladen,

MR. AND MRS. ALLAN J. ROBERTSON

Miss Pat Kelly, and Miss Marlene Marcoux and Miss Penny Ivens served. For their motor trip to Spokane and Nelson the bride donned a blue linen dress topped with a white jacket and blue and white accessories. Following their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will make their home at Burns Lake where the bride is employed.

Physiotherapist will succeed Dagny Macgregor

A new physiotherapist, who has been serving for the past three months in Kamloops, has been appointed to Kelowna by the B.C. Division, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Miss June Williams was born in London, England, and served in hospitals in Britain before coming to Vancouver where she served in the C.A.R.S. Medical Centre before going to Kamloops.

The dark, vivacious 'physio' will take the place of Miss Dagny Macgregor who is returning to Britain after two years' service in Kelowna.

Miss Williams is a graduate of the Middlesex Hospital, London, and is a member of the Chartered Society of Physiotherapists in Britain and also of the Canadian Physiotherapy Association.

She will begin treating rheumatism and arthritis patients under C.A.R.S.'s care in the Kelowna area on August 1.

Couple receive gift of linen on anniversary
Thrilled with having received a gift of lovely bed linen from an eastern textile company are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Draper, 535 Bernard Ave., who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently.

Because the company is celebrating its 50th year in business, it is using this occasion to present to couples celebrating their 50th anniversary a token of gratitude for the support Canadians as a whole have given to the firm during their half century in business. An account of Mr. and Mrs. Draper's anniversary celebration appeared recently in The Kelowna Courier.

Two pen pals finally meet

CHATHAM, Ont.—Two pen pals named Pat have finally got together.

The two Pats are Pat Doman of Chatham and Pat Griffiths of Birmingham, England. The girls, office workers, both are their parents' only children, and they are approximately the same age, about 21.

Eight years ago Pat Doman's teacher asked her if she would like an English pen pal. The other Pat accepted and since then the two have been writing every two weeks.

The girls often talked of visiting each other, and finally Pat Griffiths decided to make the trip to Canada, in spite of the deck strike.

"I recognized her instantly. She was just as she had described herself to me," said each of the other after they had met.

Parents, home towns, jobs, and pets were among the subjects the girls discussed in their letters. The English Pat might tell of the rationing, and how even the water was doled out in small quantities.

Pat Griffiths is enjoying her visit to Canada.

"Everything is so clean," she says. "And all the houses are different colors. In England you usually see a block of green houses and then a block of brown usually green and brown."

Other things that amaze the English Pat are the trees and cars. "She's got a car, crazy," says Pat Doman, who hopes to visit England some time soon.

Guide notes

Site of the Guide Camp at Cottonwood Flats, Okanagan Centre, was a hive of activity from July 6 to July 14 when 52 Guides attended a most successful camp. Companies represented at camp were the 1st and 2nd Kelowna, 1st Glenora, 1st Westbank and 1st Okanagan Mission.

With Mrs. George Mills as commandant and Mrs. A. Johnson as lieutenant, the girls had a busy and exciting time. Guides helped prepare the meals under the supervision of quartermasters, Mrs. B. Jones and Miss E. Forrie. Several cook-outs were organized by individual patrols. Mrs. S. Dyson was camp nurse.

Swimming was a daily feature at camp. Camp life guard, Miss Shirley Ameron, gave instruction in swimming and artificial respiration and several Guides took their swimming tests.

EVENING CAMPFIRES
Sunday morning the commandant led the Guides' own service. After in the day about 180 parents and friends visited the camp and stayed to watch the Regatta which the Guides had arranged for them.

Every day at camp ended with a campfire and on the last evening in camp a masquerade was held and several skits presented around the campfire.

Competition for camp awards was keen. The award for the best tent went to a group made up of Guides from the 1st and 2nd Kelowna Companies under Patrol Leader Shirley Burnette and the award for the best camper was won by Marilyn Madlock of 1st Westbank Company.

WEEK-END . . . Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ritchey and young son, Gordon, of Barriere, spent the week-end in Kelowna with Mrs. Ritchey's mother, Mrs. R. DeVlyder, Morrison Ave.

Cook's corner

RASPBERRY JAM

6 cups raspberries, closely packed
6 cups sugar
Wash berries slightly in kettle, bring to full rolling boil, boil 2 minutes. Add warmed sugar, again bring to boil rapidly 1 minute.

Remove from heat, beat with dozer beater for 3 minutes. Turn into sterilized jars. When cool, cover with layer of melted paraffin, top with clean lids.

RASPBERRY JAM

Wash berries if necessary, crush, measure and place in heavy saucepan. Add 1/2 cup sugar for each cup of crushed fruit. Bring to boil, stirring until sugar is dissolved, then cook rapidly until slightly thickened, about 15 minutes. Jam will thicken on more upon cooling and will darken if over-cooked.

Pour into sterilized jars. When cool, cover with layer of melted paraffin, top with clean lids. Four cups of crushed raspberries will yield about 3 half-pint jars of jam.

CURRENT JELLY

Wash currants, but do not strip from stems. Place in large kettle, add enough water to start them cooking, about 1/4 cup for each 4 cups of currants. Bring to boil, cover and cook about 10 minutes, or until skins burst and fruit is whitish in color. Drain through moistened jelly bag.

Measure juice and set aside 1/4 cup sugar for each cup juice. Bring juice to rapid boil, add sugar gradually, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Then cook rapidly until two drops of syrup will run together off side of metal spoon.

Remove from heat, let stand 1 minute. Skim off foam. Pour into sterilized jars. When cool, cover with layer of melted paraffin, top with clean lids.

BLACK CURRANT JAM

2 lbs. black currants
2 cups water
6 1/2 cups granulated sugar

Strip currants from stems, wash and drain well. Place in heavy kettle with water. Cook, uncovered, for 10 minutes. Add sugar, bring quickly to boil, stirring constantly until sugar is dissolved and mixture is boiling rapidly. Then byll 12 to 15 minutes or until two drops of syrup run together off side of metal spoon. Quickly ladle into sterilized jars, let stand until cool. Cover with layer of melted paraffin, top with clean lids. Makes 5 half-pint jars.

CHERRY JAM

4 cups pitted cherries
4 cups granulated sugar
Pinch salt
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Few drops almond flavoring

Combine pitted cherries, 2 cups sugar and salt, let stand 2 hours. Combine remaining 2 cups sugar and water, cook to hard ball stage when tested in cold water. Stir frequently.

CHERRY OLIVES

Mature sweet cherries with stems
6 cups cider vinegar
2 cups water
3/4 cups granulated sugar
5 tablespoons coarse salt

Use only mature sweet cherries. Bings are very good. Pack loosely into glass jars with glass lids. Combine vinegar, water, sugar and salt, heat to just under boiling in covered enamel pan. Cover fruit with the hot vinegar. Add 1/2 teaspoon mixed pickling spice to each pint seal jars.

Store in cool, dry place. Pickles will be ready for use in a month. Makes 9 to 10 pints.

Physiotherapist will succeed Dagny Macgregor

A new physiotherapist, who has been serving for the past three months in Kamloops, has been appointed to Kelowna by the B.C. Division, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Miss June Williams was born in London, England, and served in hospitals in Britain before coming to Vancouver where she served in the C.A.R.S. Medical Centre before going to Kamloops.

The dark, vivacious 'physio' will take the place of Miss Dagny Macgregor who is returning to Britain after two years' service in Kelowna.

Miss Williams is a graduate of the Middlesex Hospital, London, and is a member of the Chartered Society of Physiotherapists in Britain and also of the Canadian Physiotherapy Association.

She will begin treating rheumatism and arthritis patients under C.A.R.S.'s care in the Kelowna area on August 1.

Couple receive gift of linen on anniversary
Thrilled with having received a gift of lovely bed linen from an eastern textile company are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Draper, 535 Bernard Ave., who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently.

Because the company is celebrating its 50th year in business, it is using this occasion to present to couples celebrating their 50th anniversary a token of gratitude for the support Canadians as a whole have given to the firm during their half century in business. An account of Mr. and Mrs. Draper's anniversary celebration appeared recently in The Kelowna Courier.

Two pen pals finally meet

CHATHAM, Ont.—Two pen pals named Pat have finally got together.

The two Pats are Pat Doman of Chatham and Pat Griffiths of Birmingham, England. The girls, office workers, both are their parents' only children, and they are approximately the same age, about 21.

Eight years ago Pat Doman's teacher asked her if she would like an English pen pal. The other Pat accepted and since then the two have been writing every two weeks.

The girls often talked of visiting each other, and finally Pat Griffiths decided to make the trip to Canada, in spite of the deck strike.

"I recognized her instantly. She was just as she had described herself to me," said each of the other after they had met.

Parents, home towns, jobs, and pets were among the subjects the girls discussed in their letters. The English Pat might tell of the rationing, and how even the water was doled out in small quantities.

Pat Griffiths is enjoying her visit to Canada.

"Everything is so clean," she says. "And all the houses are different colors. In England you usually see a block of green houses and then a block of brown usually green and brown."

Other things that amaze the English Pat are the trees and cars. "She's got a car, crazy," says Pat Doman, who hopes to visit England some time soon.

Sixth annual interior truck roдео will be held at City Park on Sunday

Truck drivers from all interior points of the province will be converging on Kelowna this week-end for the 6th annual B.C. Interior Truck Rodeo to be held at The City Park oval Sunday morning commencing at 9 o'clock.

Rodeo technicians are coming from Vancouver to handle the competition. Contest is open to the public and no admission will be charged. Spectators may sit in the grandstand and truck rodeo officials promise an interesting program.

To be eligible for the contest, a driver must have a 12-month accident free record, which includes his own private car, and must be employed as a truck driver for the preceding 12 months. Drivers may be from commercial fleets, private fleets or an owner-operator.

The truck rodeo was conceived in 1937 to give annual recognition to the best and safest truck drivers in the nation. It was designed also to bring to the attention of the public the fact that truck driving is a profession; that it is followed by men whose knowledge and execution of safe driving practices and driving skills are equalled by few other drivers, and surpassed by none.

Another object of the rodeo is to promote better public relations between the industry, the drivers and the general public and to increase safety on the highway and to improve the standard of men in the driving profession.

The B.C. Interior Truck Rodeo is one of three regional events. The other two are held on Vancouver Island and the mainland. From these three rodeos, the three top men in each class are picked to compete in the provincial rodeo to be held at Seaford Armours in Vancouver. The provincial winner in each class is then flown to Toronto to carry B.C.'s colors in the national rodeo.

LOCAL CO-OPERATION

Local garages and other allied trades of the transport industry have contributed money toward prizes and defraying costs of the day's competition. Commercial trucking firms, the Kelowna and District Transport Association, and the Automotive Transport Association of B.C. are also co-operating.

The following group, representing the transport industry from Vancouver will assist in running the local event. From their number, judges for the contest will be chosen.

Hal Williams, B.C. Rodeo chairman; Harry Roberts, president, Automotive Transport Association; Sid Young, manager, Motor Carriers; Bob Sparling, Brantford Couch Co.; Harry Johnson, past president of the A.T.A.; John Struthers, International Harvester Co.; L. Fiske, B.C. Electric Co.; Harry Burns, Bowman's Storage Co.; Bill Wilson, field secretary, A.T.A.; Kel Large, secretary, A.T.A.; Bob Brimacombe, Home Oil Co.

Three main events are straight or conventional trucks, semi-trailers, and single and tandem axle trailers.

1954 WINNERS
The following were winners of the Kelowna Rodeo last year:
Single Axle Trailers—1. G. C. Bond, Princeton Breweries; 2. Gordon Currie, Princeton Breweries; 3. S. Garrison, Princeton Breweries.
Tandem Axle Trailers—1. Lou Wolf, Country Freight, Kelowna; 2. Terry Cather, Country Freight, Kelowna; 3. J. E. Ferguson, Country Freight, Penticton.

Straight Truck—1. Gordon Wardlow, S. M. Simpson Ltd.; 2. Jack Way, D. Chapman & Co., Vernon; 3. Pete Schleppe, C.N. Express.

This drawing shows the course over which truck drivers from all interior points will be covering at Sunday's sixth annual truck rodeo. It's tricky as the illustration would indicate.

Rutland

RUTLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKnight have been holidaying at Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Halbert, of High Prairie, Alberta, have been recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don McNeven.

Corporal and Mrs. A. K. Bond and family were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Bond's mother, Mrs. W. F. Schell, Cpl. Bond, now at Kamloops, will be stationed at Enderby in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Cass Lehner returned last weekend from a visit to Victoria.

Sam Lee leaves shortly for Ottawa where he will take part in national rifle shooting matches to be held there.

Mrs. Earl Minter and young son, of Chilliwack, B.C., have been recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Minter's mother, Mrs. W. F. Schell.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Stone have been recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Stone's sister, Mrs. Bruce Petch.

Two new businesses have opened in Rutland recently. J. Horning has opened a cafe in the premises at one time used by the Bank of Montreal. Mr. Hyam has opened an electrical repair shop in a building just west of the Rutland Variety Store.

Both local packinghouses, the K.G.E. and McLean & Fitzpatrick Limited are working full time on cherry packing. Indications are that the crop will be larger than last year.

Owing to the illness of George Reith, K.G.E. branch manager, Cedric Boyer, of Kelowna, is temporarily in charge of the Rutland house.

Okanagan Centre

OKANAGAN CENTRE — Mrs. N. Moerkourt and two small sons, of Westbridge, are spending a fortnight's holiday here and were joined over the weekend by Mr. Moerkourt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Breeze, and small children, of Vancouver, are the house guests for several weeks of Mr. and Mrs. V. Slater. Mrs. Breeze is a sister of Mrs. Slater's.

Mrs. A. H. Kobayashi has her mother, Mrs. LePrice, of Red Deer, Alberta, with her for an extended visit.

The two small MacDonald girls, Gay and Leigh, of Princeton, are making a visit of some weeks with relatives and friends in the Centre.

It has been learned that Mrs. Ella Gray, who had returned to Seattle with her daughter, Mrs. L. Scerban, after the death of her son, Frank Gray, has now moved to Vancouver and is making her home there.

Miss Denise Candemire, who has been the guest of the Bryan Cooney family for the past fortnight left on the weekend for her home in Golden. Miss Candemire will visit relatives in Grindrod, while en route home and while there will be joined by Miss Anne Bernau, who will spend a week with the Candemires in Golden.

More Valley fruit finds way to overseas markets

Although domestic sales of the 1954 B.C. apple crop declined slightly, exports to overseas markets made a happy four-fold jump, according to figures published by the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association this week.

During the past three years with the loosening of trade restrictions and exchange regulations exports of B.C. apples to overseas markets have risen from 144,692 boxes for 1952, 125,444 for 1953, to 809,797 boxes for the 1954 apple crop.

Dependence on the U.S. market higher in Alberta (724,351 boxes), for B.C. apple exports appears to Saskatchewan (518,020 boxes), and be falling off at the same time that Manitoba (522,080 boxes) than they exports to other countries are boosting.

Sales to the U.S. fell from a total of 1,834,819 boxes for the 1952 crop, to 1,590,343 for the 1953 crop, and to 1,198,045 for the crop harvested in 1954.

Distribution of sales in the U.S. covered 38 of the 48 states and the territory of Alaska with largest sales being in Minnesota and California. Ten states did not purchase B.C. apples. Among them were seven which have continued over the past three years to not buy B.C. apples: Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada, Utah, New Mexico, Vermont and New Hampshire.

TOTAL SALES

Total sales of the 1954 apple crop which totalled 5,662,896 boxes, were as follows: exports 2,008,742, consisting of 1,198,045 to the U.S. and 809,797 to overseas markets; domestic sales 3,654,154 of which 854,590 were sold to Canadian canners and processors.

The selling of B.C. apples to canners and processors jumped almost two-fold between the 1953 and 1954 crop: from 465,030 boxes of the 1953 crop to 854,590 for that of 1954. Compared with the 1952 crop sales to this group there has been a more than two-fold jump, from 374,940 to the 854,590 boxes of the 1954 crop. However, though sales of the 1954 crop to the canning industry showed a marked increase over other years, the sales to the Canadian fresh fruit market declined.

CANADIAN MARKET

There appears to be a general trend to a falling off in the sales of B.C. apples to the Canadian fresh fruit market: from a sales total to all provinces of 3,247,556 boxes in the 1952 crop, 3,139,692 in the 1953 crop, to 2,799,564 in the 1954 crop. Considering the sales distribution of the 1954 apple crop among each province of the Dominion, it is noted that sales of last year's crop were make a watch.

FARM IMPROVEMENTS

Farms in New South Wales, Australia, now have about 50,000 tractors compared with less than 2,000 eight years ago.

IMMIGRATION DOWN

In the first quarter of 1955 immigration to Canada totalled 17,627, 37 per cent less than in the first quarter of 1954. Almost half the 17,627 entries were wives, children and elderly dependents of immigrants or of persons already settled in Canada.

Easy if you know how

"If you think this is easy, come on down and do it," says young Denny Kirsch, and he maneuvers his unwieldy "apple box" into the winning spot in a recent Aquacade.

"Apple Box" derby is always a popular event at any water show.

Apple crop in local area will exceed 1954 figure

The Kelowna apple crop during this year is expected to run around 49,286 boxes higher than last year, according to latest figures released by provincial department of agriculture.

Total of 1,996,000 boxes are expected to be harvested, compared with 1,946,714 in 1954. The increase for the Okanagan district as a whole extending from the Lytton-Chase area to Oliver-Osoyoos and Keremeos-Cawston, for this year is estimated at about seven per cent higher than the total apple crop for 1954, jumping from 6,053,512 boxes for last year to an estimated 6,463,340.

A similar increase in the Okanagan district pear and grape crops for 1955 was forecast by the horticultural branch.

Total boxes of pears in the district for 1954 crop were 613,000. Estimated crop for 1955 is 698,775, an increase of about 13 per cent over 1954 crop.

Grapes totalled 1,645,512 pounds for 1954. The branch's estimated production is 1,815,000 for 1955, an increase of 11 per cent. However, the total grape yield in the Kelowna district will be down from 1,531,144 to 1,500,000 pounds.

Figures of apple crops for some of the other districts comprising the Okanagan district are as follows:

In the Salmon Arm-Sorrent area, the forecasted crop will be 111,910 apple boxes, a decrease of 2,126 boxes compared with last year.

A total of 770,750 boxes for 1955 or an increase of 30,468 is forecast in the Osoyoos-Winfield-Okanagan Centre area.

Westbank's yield will be down to 205,000 from 219,516 boxes; Vernon up to 507,000 from 468,233; Penticton up to 649,670 from 644,513; Oliver-Osoyoos up 884,000 from 635,814.

Hope to find oil in Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld.—Government geologists are tramping the west coast of Newfoundland in a determined search for oil, the presence of which has long been suspected in the industrial belt now known chiefly for its lumber.

Promoters are hopefully eyeing the Parson's Pond region, near Corner Brook as the best prospect for an oil strike.

Easterners are impressed with courteous drivers

EDMONTON — Easterners, for whom foot-footed dashes between automobiles at busy city intersections are second nature, are surprised when they try their stunts in this bustling oil capital. It's the courtesy of the motorists that is surprising.

Step to the curb of a busy avenue and the two-way traffic grinds to a halt. Absent-minded walk against a red light and the cars won't move until you're on the opposite sidewalk.

The tradition is deeply ingrained in this and other Alberta cities. A book published in 1914, recently uncovered, explains it all.

The author, one Leo English, settled in Calgary at that time and wrote it as a kind of protest against road conditions and police treatment of car owners.

Said he: "Alberta's (law) seems framed upon the principle that the automobile is something to be discouraged and handicapped as much as possible."

In Calgary motorists were "soaked" by fines on the slightest pretext while "drivers of (horse) teams stand in opposite directions to gossip."

Horse-drawn men from the prairies in right of way at all times. Retaliation by horn - blowing, shouting or indecent language was banned by law.

Today, under the law at least, motorists and pedestrians have equal rights. Jaywalkers are as likely to get fined as careless motorists.

But the average car driver still stands in awe of the pedestrian who, right or wrong, steps out to cross a street or a crowded avenue.

James E. Butler joins Royal Bank at Vernon

VERNON—James E. Butler, Kelowna, has been posted to the Vernon branch of the Royal Bank to replace H. Strom, transferred to the new branch of the bank in Vancouver at Robson and Bute streets.

Mr. Butler, who has been with the Royal for the past two years, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Butler of Kelowna.

About 2,000 cross-ties are needed for every mile of railroad track.

Gov't denies that milk quality requirements will be tightened

According to the B.C. department of agriculture, there appears to be some general misunderstanding concerning quality requirements of milk for the fluid market on and after October 1.

"Apparently rumors have been circulated that standards will be very seriously tightened up and that milk presently acceptable will no longer be of sufficiently high quality to be used on the fluid market," the department stated.

"It is difficult to understand the source or reason for this sort of story—the standard that becomes effective generally throughout the province on October 1 is the equivalent of the recognized standard that has been used by most of the dairies, especially those on the Lower Mainland and Vancouver Island for at least a year, and in many cases for a number of years," felt the department.

CHANGE REGULATIONS
"The change in the provincial regulations merely brings these in line with recognized practice and makes them apply throughout the province and generally speaking provides official recognition of the standards already used by most of the people in the business."

On and after October 1 all milk will be bought on a quality basis as it is received at the plants of the various distributors and processors. In some parts of the province, in the past, this has not been the case.

It has been reported also that on occasion milk has been given a low grade and, consequently, paid for at a lower price, without any concrete reason being given to the producer.

Effective October 1 if a producer's milk is down-graded, the reason must be made known to him.

"There has also been another rumor," the department went on, "that, as a result of changes in regulations, the small producer is going to be faced with difficult and expensive changes in equipment."

"Reports have appeared that the Milk Board was requiring producers to put in bulk storage tanks at a cost of thousands of dollars."

"This is utter nonsense and the people circulating such stories are irresponsible, to say the least," declared the department. "No such order has ever been made by the milk board or by any branch of the provincial government, nor does there appear any likelihood of such order from either source in the future."

"True, for the last two years, there has been a general effort to improve the quality of milk arriving at the various distributing plants."

"Certainly the methods of operation on some farms can be improved upon, with beneficial results to the industry as a whole."

The department said that proper cooling of milk is of the greatest importance in maintaining quality and will always be a major factor in the production program of the good dairy farmer.

Size of operation, however, has nothing to do with the quality of the milk produced. The man with a few cows who takes care of those animals and uses good milking and sanitation methods is just as capable of producing first quality milk as the large farmer who has, perhaps, more elaborate equipment but less able to give his personal attention to all the details.

East Kelowna
EAST KELOWNA—East Kelowna Scouts have returned from spending ten days in camp at McCulloch. The troop had a very enjoyable holiday, fishing and playing at night.

All returned home with a good sun tan. They were accompanied by Scoutmaster George Porter.

Cherry picking is in full swing in the district.

Miss Corla Parkes is spending the remainder of the summer holidays with Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Finley and family at Langley Prairie.

Holidaying guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stewart, were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Conn and son, Torry, of Prince George. They have since returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ross, with David and Kenneth, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Francis, of Enderby, where they attended the wedding of their nephew, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Francis are sisters.

Harry Middleton, Robert Thorndike and Teddy Turlon, have been holidaying at the Anglican camp at Wilson's Landing.

The Victoria merry-go-round

By JAMES K. NESBITT

VICTORIA — It will be three years next Monday that Social Credit took over the government of British Columbia.

It was August 1, 1952. British Columbia had been in political turmoil and uproar for many months—from the January day when Liberal-Creston Premier Byron Johnson fired out of his government, his Conservative right-hand man, Finance Minister Herbert Anscombe, and all the Conservatives walked across the floor of the House, too, because their chief, Mr. Anscombe had been bounced.

What a day of shattering political crisis that was! Coalition, after 11 years, had suddenly fallen apart. We had a Liberal government, though the Liberals wouldn't admit that. By some strange reasoning they said it was still a Coalition government. For one session the Conservatives dislodged the C.C.F. as the opposition.

Mr. Bennett sat on the sidelines, rubbing his hands in political glee as he saw Liberals and Conservatives politically murdering each other. He hadn't quite made up his mind which way he'd jump, but that treacherous, quite ruthless political ambition of his was burning hotly within him. He had quit the Conservative party in deep chagrin because he couldn't get to be Conservative leader. The Conservatives preferred Mr. Anscombe to Mr. Bennett. Well, Mr. Bennett would show them, and everyone else! He did, and how!

An election was called for June. Mr. Johnson and Mr. Wismer, who should have presented a solid Liberal front, took to fighting each other about hospital insurance. Mr. Bennett by now had embraced Social Credit, in a sort of political desperation, because he had nowhere else to turn. The S.C. bigwigs in the east didn't think much of Mr. Bennett then, and sent out Rev. Mr. Hansell, M.P. to run their B.C. campaign. Mr. Bennett bided his time, and it's something when he bides his time, for patience isn't his long suit.

One will never forget meeting Mr. Bennett during the campaign. He said Social Credit either wouldn't get anywhere, or it would make the grade—that there'd be no half-and-half. How right he was! What uncanny political instinct this man has for jumping at the right moment. When will come the time when he'll choose the wrong moment?

There was the alternative system of voting in those days, cooked up by Liberals and Conservatives and aimed at ruining the C.C.F. making Liberals and Conservatives the government and then the opposition, turn and turn about. That might well have happened if it hadn't been for Mr. Bennett, the S.C. leader. Into complete reverse they spectacularly threw the well laid plans of Liberals and Conservatives. Because of the long delay in counting, under alternative voting, nobody knew for weeks and weeks what actually had happened on election day.

As the ballots were counted and re-counted, it began to look bad for Liberals and Conservatives, better and better for C.C.F.'ers and S.C.'ers. But which? Mr. Bennett, hurriedly elected S.C. leader after the election, took up his residence in the Empress Hotel, day and night awaited a call from the Lieut.-Governor to form a government.

The Lieut.-Governor took his time. He wanted to be sure which party had a majority of legislative seats. He wanted no more political crisis, though crisis after crisis did come for another year, until another election gave Social Credit an overall House majority.

On the afternoon of August 1, Premier Johnson went to Government House, handed his resignation to the Lieut.-Governor, advised that he call on Mr. Bennett to form a government. His Honor, following strict constitutional lines, because he has no political power, and is only a figure head, took the advice of his chief minister, even though that minister had been badly defeated.

That night, in the green and white drawing room of Government House, came Mr. Bennett's moment of supreme victory. He was sworn in as Premier. So sure had he grown that he had picked his cabinet, even going outside elected representatives to choose Mr. Bonner and Mr. Gundersen.

Next morning, in a flamboyant gesture never before seen in these parts, the new Premier marched his new cabinet ministers up the curving driveway to the Legislative Buildings, while stunned civil servants peered from the windows.

It takes TCP to get the full power from High Octane Gasoline

Cars built today are the most powerful ever built. And with this extra power you also get extra economy—more miles per gallon.

The reason for these benefits is that today's engines are high compression engines and make more complete use of the power available in today's higher octane gasolines.

But did you know that the kind of driving most people do most of the time—local driving—can, in a short time, create a condition that offsets the extra power and economy that these engines should get from high octane gasoline.

Why? Because this kind of driving increases the build-up of certain combustion chamber deposits—the root of most power and gasoline waste. And to overcome these deposits you need a gasoline with a special kind of additive.

What happens is this:

As your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time... before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fireproofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

Shell's trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

Top notch bicycle racers will commence grueling marathon from Kelowna

Okanagan and Fraser Valley towns will play host and witness the greatest bicycle road race ever held in Canada, August 28-30. Race will start from Kelowna on the morning of August 28 where over one hundred riders from across Canada, U.S.A. and possibly from Mexico will face the starters gun. The pedal pushers will complete the first stage of the race when they finish that night at Princeton. After a night's rest, they will commence one of the most grueling stages of the race, the second day's summit and through Manning Park, and will finish the second day's racing at Hope.

After another night's rest, they will be ready to go for the final lap into Vancouver, where they will enter the grounds of the Pacific National Exhibition before an expected throng of over 40,000 people. The bicycle race held in 1953, where riders started in Vancouver and finished at Penticton, is still remembered and talked about, and although the 1953 race was highly successful, this coming race will far outstrip its forerunner, as entries are coming in from Quebec, Ontario, Alberta, California, Washington and possibly an entry from Mexico.

Vancouver speedsters have increased in numbers, and an expected forty of the best will compete for valuable prizes. New Canadians who have entered include two former Italian road champions, Mario Brunaro and Luigi Zanatta; Werner Drobner from West Germany; Fred Hilbert, Martin Hubbard and Colin Warden from England, and Pat Hennessy from Ireland.

Washington state champion Gary Lund, who finished third in 1953, will make a strong bid for first place, and of course Canadian champion Jim Davies Jr. who won the 1953 race, will again fight it out with the best in North America.

Kelowna, Princeton and Hope will play host to the riders and officials during their nightly stopover. If arrangements can be made for prizes etc., a finish will be recorded in each town and prizes will go to the first three riders crossing each respective town's finishing line, the cyclists will, however, continue right on through.

This bicycle race will be an annual affair, and will become one of the major athletic attractions of the P.N.E.

Although only iron, nickel and cobalt have marked magnetic properties, among the pure metals, some alloys of other metals also are magnetic.

New record set at race track

Joe Welder, driving his own car, No. 6, broke the Knox Mountain Stock Car track record on Sunday, in the first meet on the new track surface.

Joe lapped one and five-tenths seconds off the lap record, formerly held by Frank Maxson. New time for the track is 22 and five-tenths seconds.

Joe went into some bad luck in the next heat, laying off the pace and waiting for his break. It came in the last lap, and he roared through on the rail, to win on the fly.

OTHER WINNERS
Fred Evans, driving No. 12, owned by Ross Charters, provided the thrill of the day when he left the track at the north-east corner, and had to drive back by the ditch road. Car and driver were unhurt.

Bouquet of the day goes to Al Summerfield, who could have caused a No. 7, driven by Bruce Murphy, and sponsored by Thompson Auto Parts, to roll, but hung back and waited until he got straightened out.

Winners of the day's events were: Trophy dash, Bruce Murphy, No. 7, and "C" Mains, Al Summerfield, No. 55; "B" Main, Coko Koyanagi, No. 3, Adanacs Auto Body; and in the heats, Jim Hemstreet, No. 17, Ogopogo Service, first heat; Al Summerfield, second heat; Bill Urquhart, No. 77, Rutland Hardware, third heat.

The day's point winner was Bruce Murphy, with 108, and Al Summerfield second with 80. Carl Neishi, driving Del Welder's No. 66, and Coko Koyanagi, tied for third place with 70 apiece.

Rifle chatter

There was an improved turnout at the weekly shoot of the B.C. Rifle Association, with C. Lee capturing the top honors, in a day that started out cool, but developed a heavy mirage, the sun climbed.

A steady piling up of points put Lee into three figures for the second consecutive day.

Lee received the welcome news during the week that he was picked to go to Ottawa in August with the B.C. team to enter in the Connaught Rifle Range eliminations for the Bisley shoot. Other members of the team are Ron Weeks and Glenda Hill.

The club will go to Summerland next Sunday for their annual shoot.

This week's scores were: C. Lee, 200 yards—34, 500 yards—600 yards—34. Total—102; R. Weeks, 33, 31, 34—98; G. Kennedy, 34, 33, 31—98; C. Hill, 34, 33, 27—94; S. Lee, 30, 31, 31—92.

Summer heat calls halt to baseball

Summer heat, the call of vacations, and the swimmin' hole has brought an end to the juvenile baseball league, according to president Milo Sawatsky.

President Sawatsky had called for members of the Buzzards, Pils and Bums who still desired to play baseball to turn out on Thursday night, so that a composite team could be formed out of the remnants, but the turn-out wasn't large enough to make the idea worthwhile.

Mr. Sawatsky had intended to play the composite team against the Sunshine Service team once a week, but the poor turnout has made it a certainty that the league has finished this year's play.

This is the first year the league has been in operation, and Mr. Sawatsky, with the help of Sgt. Kelly Irving of the RCMP, was instrumental in the year's functioning.

While the league labored under the usual difficulties attendant upon the first year of existence, Mr. Sawatsky feels that much good has been the result of the juvenile play.

It is his hope to make the league bigger and better next year, and he wants the boys to talk it up among themselves this fall and winter, in the hope they may have more teams and better play next year.

Advocates standard pay for hockey players

VERNON—A suggestion by Vernon hockey player and restaurateur Frank King to standardize the salaries of all players in the league and pay bonuses at the end of the season met with enthusiastic applause at a meeting of the Vernon Hockey Club called to test fan reaction to the proposed withdrawal of the club from the O.S.A.H.L.

King suggested that each player should be paid $70 a week and that if anything was over at the end of the season it should be split among the players in the form of a bonus.

He said the plan had worked very well in other places and was preferable to a system whereby players came in at different salaries.

The meeting passed a unanimous vote of confidence in the Vernon executive, approved the stand it had taken at the league meeting bit at the same time gave the club the green light to continue operations.

The club budgeted for a player expenditure of $25,000 for a 32-man team including the coach.

ALTER CONSTITUTION

The club's constitution was amended at the meeting to allow the inclusion of representatives on the executives from "various major North Okanagan communities" which were listed as Lavington, Lumby, Armstrong, Salmon Arm, Falkland and Enderby.

During the meeting the Mayor of Vernon, A. A. Wilke suggested the abandonment of the term "amateur" from the Okanagan Senior Amateur Hockey League since the league was no longer amateur.

President of the club George Castonguay said that repercussions to the Canadians' withdrawal from the league had been very great.

"We had very good support from our local press," he said, "although from outside it wasn't so good. I believe they sold more Kamloops Sentinels than they ever have, especially in Vernon, though, we didn't pay much attention to that."

Continuing, Mr. Castonguay said, "Out of the league meeting that was held last Thursday, we did get one concession but certainly not what we wanted or were fighting for."

He went on to say that the reduction of the league schedule from 27 home games to 24 was acceptable to Vernon but the club was still against the Kootenay-Okanagan series. It had been suggested the Vernon should stay out of the Kootenay trips but the rest of the league had said no, continued Mr. Castonguay.

NO GENTLEMEN
A former chairman of the arena commission, R. Dougle, wanted clubs banded under threat of a $1,000 fine to stay inside their budgets, but Mr. Castonguay replied that there was no way to ensure clubs sticking to the agreed figure.

Art Crowe, vice-president, said that it was really a gentleman's agreement. Interjected Bill Hayward, former president of the club "There are no gentlemen at a league meeting."

The rest of the discussion was taken up with a review of the club's present financial position.

Rovettes down local deuces by 24-1 score

Rutland Rovettes proved too strong for Kelowna Deuces, in the women's softball league, when they downed them by a 24-1 score Thursday night at Rutland ball park.

Leading hitters for Rovettes were Dolores Kraft, Dot Hartman, Marj Rath, Kay Fitzpatrick and Phyllis Schneider, with three runs apiece, as they romped to an easy win.

Helen Leonard earned four runs. Phyllis Ramsey earned nine strike-outs for her stint on the mound, for Rovettes, and Kay Fritz started for Deuces, with Connie Kofman finishing the game.

Girls junior ball players beat champions

Rutland Rovettes, girls' softball team from Kelowna city, softball league, made a successful foray into Penticton on Sunday, when they defeated the defending B.C. champions, Penticton Wheelers, 12-9.

Phyllis Ramsey, regular pitcher for Rovettes, was on the mound all the way, pitching against Diane Hutchison, Wheel chucker in the B.C. play-offs last year.

Rutland players, who have been doing a good job in the city league this year, include: Kay Fitzpatrick, Phyllis Schneider, Dorothy Hartman, Helen Leonard, Agnes Hellyman, Marjorie Rath, Rosalind Fielder and Loretta Mannin.

ANNOUNCE NEW WAY TO SHRINK PAINFUL HEMORRHOIDS

Science Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain. Thousands have been relieved—without resort to surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a famous scientific institute.

Now you can get this new healing substance in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

GO/GO/GO!

THERE'S A WORLD TO SEE AT THE P.N.E.

IT'S HERE! Everything's all set at Exhibition Park Vancouver, for the biggest, busiest, most exciting fair in the West — yes, it's P.N.E. time again. Don't miss the acres of new exhibits; the thrills of the Race Tracks; the free Outdoor Theatre and the intriguing new buildings; the gaiety, color and pageantry. Whatever you do, don't miss this year's better-than-ever P.N.E. at Vancouver. Go, go, go to the P.N.E.
